BIO – Marie Bankuti

Marie Bankuti, PCC, CPCC, PMP is an accomplished Leadership & Team Development Coach, Trainer, Speaker, and Project Management Professional who has built her 34+ year career on a commitment to excellence, integrity, and continuous learning. Her passion is assisting leaders and teams in bringing their very best to their work, while creating engaged and productive working relationships. Her work is grounded in the strong belief that meaningful relationships are at the core of our professional success and personal fulfillment, and that leadership is not confined only to those with the title.

She supports conscious and emerging leaders to make their greatest contribution by assisting them in developing their leadership presence. Through working with them to identify their unique strengths, define their own success, and step into action, she helps individuals create their own leadership style with heart and intentional impact.

Marie also works with teams to explore and implement ways to increase both productivity and positivity. By increasing awareness on the relationship system, she empowers them to quickly and effectively address conflict, and harness their capacity. Through this work, teams develop the resiliency to thrive.

With over 28 years in IT as Developer, Business Analyst, Project Manager and Manager, Marie has worked in State Government, Financial, Banking, Manufacturing, Consulting and Non-Profit industries. Coaching since 2007, she is a Professional Certified Coach (PCC), Certified Professional Co-Active Coach (CPCC) and Project Management Professional (PMP). She is also an authorized facilitator of the Team Diagnostic™ and the Leadership Circle Profile™ 360 Assessment. Her coaching and leadership training are through the internationally respected Coaches Training Institute, Center for Right Relationship, and Team Coaching International. Marie is an ardent believer in giving back, has served on several boards, and volunteers regularly.
